

Ian Callum is Director of Design for Jaguar Cars. He joined the company in 1999. Some of his earlier works included the all-aluminum XK followed by the XKR and XKR-S, the fastest Jaguar in a generation.

The latest evolution, the C-X75 concept vehicle took the Paris Motor Show by storm in 2010. The C-X75 was awarded "Car of the Show" and received sustained acclaim from the media.

Today Callum continues to lead a highly talented team of designers at the Jaguar design studios in Coventry as the exciting new era for the brand continues.

Andy Goss became President of Jaguar Land Rover North America, LLC., in May of 2011. He is responsible for the National Sales Company Operations of the Jaguar Land Rover brands in the United States and Canada. He is a highly experienced and successful business leader with a strong track record with numerous auto manufacturers in the UK and Europe. Prior to joining Jaguar, he was Chief Executive Officer of Porsche Cars, Great Britain, a position he held for 12 years.

David Kinney, ASA is an American Society of Appraisers Accredited Senior Appraiser with an Automotive Specialties designation. He is a highly respected and sought after automobile expert. He owns his own automotive only appraisal firm in Great Falls, VA and is a frequent contributor to AutoWeek, AUTOMOBILE magazine and Octane, a British publication. Dave is also the founder and publisher of Hagerty Price Guide. Hagerty Price Guide has become an industry standard among post-war car collectors.

Virginia Jaguar Club wishes to say, "THANK YOU" to all the 2013 JCNA Challenge Championship Sponsors!

You made it all possible.

The Virginia Jaguar Club is delighted to host the JCNA 2013 Challenge Championship, June 12-16.

The Richmond Region offers easy access to the ocean, mountains and Washington, D.C. Getting here is easy. The Region is located within a day's drive of half of the U.S. population, two hours south of Washington D.C. and two hours west of the Atlantic Coast. In addition, Richmond offers numerous historic landmarks, art museums, wineries and plantation homes for local sightseeing. For extended day trips, Richmond is less than an hour away from historic Colonial Williamsburg and less than two hours from the scenic Blue Ridge Parkway.

The Wyndham Virginia Crossings is a perfect location for Jaguar. The 20 acres of lushly landscaped property which surrounds the Georgian inspired buildings lends itself well to hosting the Jaguar owners, enthusiasts and Jaguar cars.

In the evenings, we have cocktail hours and dinners with national and International speakers. Dave Kinney, with Hagerty Price Guide, will serve as our Friday night keynote speaker, discussing Jaguar evaluations, and trends in the classic and antique market place. On Saturday evening, with further award presentations on the way, you will hear from Andy Goss, President of Jaguar Land Rover North America LLC. and Ian Callum, chief designer for Jaguar Cars. We anticipate he will discuss new developments at Jaguar, including their long awaited F-Type sports car.

The Virginia Crossings is a great setting to initiate the events you have come for--rally, slalom and national concours-- The Challenge Championship.

Please register today and plan to join us in Richmond for the 2013 Challenge Championship.

Ron Gaertner
President, Virginia Jaguar Club.
